

Information and Instructions for Ordering Regional and National Uniforms Team Washington 2012

All team members will be individually ordering their gear of their choice and size this year for all our National Teams (Duals and Fargo) and Western Regionals. Their merchandise will be delivered to the venue where they will be wrestling.

The coaches and officials going to those tournaments will also order their own items and the state will reimburse them the equivalent of the price of a coaches or officials shirt plus a team jacket. The coach and official can order whatever they want but will only receive $70 reimbursement. If coaches and officials are volunteering at more than one event, they must order off the site of the first tournament they will be attending to assure they will have their merchandise. All orders will be individually packaged with the person's name on the bag. The orders will be packed in bulk boxes that the coaches will be able to pick up at the tournament from the All American Wrestling Supply booth.

All 3 dual teams (Schoolboy, Cadets and Juniors) will not need singlets. They will be loaned Team Washington singlets and will be required to give them back to their coach the last night in the hotel before returning to Washington. Any gear they want to order from the site is optional.

Family members may also order off these sites, but they need to know that the merchandise will be given to their wrestler who will be responsible for getting the merchandise home from the tournament.

After the dual teams and W. Regionals sites are closed for ordering, All American Wrestling Supply will open a site where athletes and family members can order items to be delivered to their home but this will have additional shipping costs added to each item. By delivering items directly to the tournament we are saving wrestlers the added cost of shipping.
